Wrong technology, wrong place, better ways to power our future

Fukushima Day 11th March

Four years ago a tsunami off the coast of Japan caused a tidal wave to breach the defences of a nuclear power station. 120,00 people had to evacuate their homes, some as far away as 30k from the plant. Most of these people are still evacuated and many will never return to their homes.

In Lydney we are 10k and in Coleford 17k from the site of the proposed Nuclear Power Station at Oldbury.

Please join us to commemorate

Fukushima Day
Wednesday March 11th, 2015
Lydney Harbour 6.00pm

6.00 pm

We will meet at the Standing Stones and picnic tables at Lydney Harbour. We will take the short walk to the gate over the canal where we will throw flowers into the water to a background of Japanese music.

6.15 pm

We will read out personal messages that we have sent to the people of Fukushima, then write new messages for the people of Lydney who walk along the path and see Oldbury power station.

6.40 pm

We will end by lighting our lanterns and singing together.

Please join us and help to make this an important and memorable day for the people living in the shadow of Oldbury and Berkeley.

And please bring torches and lanterns if you can.
